Tothom Privacy Policy

Last updated: September 8, 2024

Collection of Personal Data

At Tothom, we do not collect personal data, nor do we share it with third parties. We have designed Tothom to provide you with a seamless and functional experience without the need to collect personal information. Tothom does not collect or store personal information from its visitors. We do not use contact forms, subscriptions, registrations, or tracking tools such as cookies or behavior analysis.

Social Media

Tothom may include links to our official social media accounts. Please note the following: When you click on any of these links, you will be redirected to the corresponding platform, which has its own terms of use and privacy policies. We recommend reviewing those policies before interacting with such platforms.

We do not collect or store personal information from users through these links. If you choose to interact with our posts or send us messages via social media, the information will only be used to manage our interactions with you within those platforms and in accordance with their established terms.

External Links

Tothom may include links to third-party websites. We are not responsible for the content of external links or the policies governing them; we recommend reviewing those policies when voluntarily accessing such links.

Links to third parties are provided for informational purposes only and do not necessarily imply endorsement or recommendation of the content on those sites.

Contact Email

If you voluntarily decide to contact us via email, any information you provide (such as your email address or other personal data included in the message) will only be used to respond to your inquiry and for the minimum time necessary to do so.

We will not use your email address to send promotional messages or newsletters, nor will we share your information with third parties.

Information Security

Any data you send us via email or another platform will be treated confidentially. However, please note that no data transmission over the Internet is completely secure, and we recommend that you do not share sensitive information.
